Rebel Capital May Be Packed Off from Tarlac by Hand-Landing on Lingayen Gulf—Done
Under Fire.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The War Department definitely located Aguinaldo today as being on his way to the town of Bambang, about seventy-five miles northeast of Tarlac. The recent calculations have been that the insurgent leader was at the town of Bayambang, near Tarlac, in which case the several forces under Gen. MacArthur, Gen. Lawton, Gen. Young and Gen.
Wheeler would have had him practically surrounded. There has been some doubt, however, as to the name Bayambang, and today this was cleared up by definite information fixing Bambang instead of Bayambang as the place of Aguineldo's refuge.

A dispatch from Gen. Otis mentioned Bambang, and at the same time reliable information came through other channels that Lieut. Gilmore and other American prisoners were at Bambang in the mountains, far to the northeast of Tarlac. It is expected that the insurgent capital will be shifted to Bambang, and the efforts of the American military forces will be directed toward that point.

It is in the mountainous country of the north and apparently out of the fertile and populous regions where Aguineldo has thus far conducted his operations. It is said to be accessible from the south by way of only one route, along a river which is a branch of the Rio Grande. This leaves the rebel leader little or no opportunity of communicating with the coast or getting in supplies. He has also left the railroad behind him.

It is said at the War Department that the columns of Gen. Young and Gen.
Wheeler will push on to the north, following up the insurgent leader and his scattered bands.

OTHER PARTICULARS.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

MANILA, Nov. 10, 10 a.m.—Gen.
Wheaton's expedition arrived off San Fabian Monday night, but the surf was too high to permit the landing of troops in small boats. Tuesday morning the expedition approached Lingayen, a suburb of Dagupan, which has a sheltered harbor with high sand dunes stretching from water to land. The Benington, Helena, Manila, Cal-iao and Samar shelled the town and the beach for an hour with the full strength of their batteries, but there was no response, nor were there visible signs of life. The troops were landed in boats, five steam launches each towing four boats. When these approached the shore and the troops began to land, a long line of insurgents rose from the sand and poured a heavy volley over the heads of the soldiers, following this with a rapid fusillade. The insurgents were excited and fired high, few of the bullets striking the boats. Two men, however, were wounded.

The companies were formed and ordered to lie down in the sand. They gave the insurgents a few volleys and then charged, driving the enemy with a rush.

The Filipinos had lain behind the dunes during the bombardment, the shells plunging through the sand and down to the water.

The gunboat Manila brought the news that when she left, Gen. Wheaton, with his entire force of 2700 men, was marching eastward, leaving Dagupan behind.

The battleship Oregon, which had been ordered from Hongkong to Dagupan, had not arrived at the latter place when the Manila sailed. Gen.
Young, with his cavalry, took San Jose on Wednesday. A small insurgent force stationed there retreated the river to Cabanatuan on a raft. During the passage an accident occurred by which a private with the Twenty-second Regiment was drowned.

Another attack has been made by the insurgents on Baling, the rebels firing into the town for three hours, but doing no damage.

The insurgents held a celebration at Tarlac October 29 in honor of the anti-imperialists. The demonstration included a procession, religious services and speeches by Aguineldo and other officials.

The independence, in an editorial article, eulogizing W. J. Bryan, says:
"Bryan should be pictured in Filipino history with equal glory with Dr. Rizal.
Rizal, Bryan and Aguineldo are the glorious trinity of our political redemption."

Gen. Otis and the Spanish and British consuls have made arrangements in accordance with which the British cruiser Peacock is to take 20,000 rations and clothing to the Spanish prisoners in the Alibay and Camarin provinces.

PART THE NAVY PLAYED.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Admiral Watson has cabled the Navy Department the following account of the part played by the navy in the landing made yesterday by Gen. Wheaton on Lingayen Gulf in pursuit of the plan to surround Aguineldo's forces.

"MANILA, Nov. 9.—Gen. Wheaton's expedition to the north of Luzon landed at Dagupan Tuesday. Two of the Americans were wounded. The expedition is advancing eastward.

COMMANDERS' MOVEMENTS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

MANILA, Nov. 9.—Gen. Wheaton successfully landed expedition at Lingayen, west of Dagupan, afternoon of 7th, after considerable opposition, slight casualties; rough sea not permitting landing at San Fabian, north of Dagupan. He is moving eastward. Joseph "MacArthur seized Malabacat, on the railroad, 7th inst. Col. Bell taking same on direct reconnaissance.

Gen. Lawton is at Cabanatuan. Troops beyond Talavera, and Alaga have met with slight opposition, enemy being driven back in all instances.
Country still submerged, but water falling. Troops will move rapidly as soon as conditions permit. Hughes

BRASS BULLETS BEING USED.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—The Press has the following:

"Brass bullets are being used by the Filipinos against the Americans. The fact was discovered when a bullet with a brass casing was extracted from the leg of a soldier of the Polytechnic Hospital recently. He is now on Governor's Island, being nursed back to health. The bullet is said to be from Donovan, formerly of the Sixty-ninth Regiment. He went to the Philippines as a regular, and was wounded in the leg. He is young, strong and healthy, he will not die."

The surgeons found the trouble in the shape of a large bullet, brass incased, in the leg. Donovan would not live by encasing it. Had it not been for the poison-proof cast that surrounds the wound, Donovan would have died long ago, the surgeon said."

WITHDRAWAL OF TROOPS.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A special to the Herald from Washington says that in order to avoid the charge of millitarism, the government has decided to withdraw troops from Cuba and Porto Rico. There are now in Cuba
331 officers and 10,000 men, and in Porto Rico 108 officers and 208 men.

In his annual report, just submitted to Secretary Root, Gen. Wood, commanding the Department of Santiago, declares he has too many troops. Secretary Root telegraphed Gen. Wood today to make a supplemental report as to the necessity of his department.
The number which can with safety be withdrawn. Instructions were sent several days ago to Gen.
Wood to make a report on the advisability of withdrawing troops. His reply was not favorable to the proposition. The insurgents are still active in the Philippines, necessitating the retention of all the men under his command.

It is understood that Gen. Lee, commanding the Department of Manila, has declared he has too many troops. He has informed the President that, in his opinion, all the men in Cuba should be sent to Manila. He was asked to give his opinion respecting the advisability of reducing the military force in the island.

Porto Rico, it is said military officers feel that the force there can be reduced, and it is expected some battalions will be sent home and stationed in this country.

QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

REPORT ON OPERATIONS.

(A. P. DAY REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The report of Quartermaster-General Ludington, made public today, shows an immense amount of work accomplished by this department in connection with the military operations of the past year.

This includes organization of a transport fleet, the moving of 100,000 troops to the Philippines, in addition to the troops transported to Cuba and Porto Rico, the repatriation of over 50,000 Spanish soldiers from the various islands captured, the care and transportation of the immense quantities of animals and supplies necessary for the support of our own soldiers and the disinterment and return to the United States of over 1200 soldiers and civilians, who died in Cuba, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines, in the service of the government.

THE TRANSPORT SERVICE.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Gen. Ludington gives a list of thirty-seven vessels now included in the transport fleet. During the fiscal year these vessels have carried 232,887 persons between Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, the Philippines Islands and the United States. All this has been accomplished without the loss of a single life. There have been carried 27,353 animals and 88,150 tons of freight.

A total of 1213 bodies of soldiers and others dying abroad have been returned to the United States from Cuba, Porto Rico, and the Philippines and Hawaii.

Ohio's Losing Party Creates a Flurry

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

LOUISVILLE (Ky.), Nov. 9.—A confusion of claims and counter-claims, to quiet which the official count or,
perhaps, a contest before the Legislature will be necessary, is all that is left of Tuesday's election. Above it all, vehement cries of fraud, committed or contemplated, are heard. Each side claims the election of its ticket by a plurality of about 4000, and presents figures to back up the claim. These figures in some counties vary widely,
and it is impossible to tell which side,
if either, has accurate returns.

Chairman Long of the Republican Campaign Committee, when asked for an estimate of the vote on the gubernatorial race, said: "I have no estimate to give, but I can furnish the actual figures. On the face of the returns, Taylor's plurality is 4135. All the precincts have been heard from.
Twelve counties are not official, including the returns from Kenton and Breathitt."

Gen. Taylor said he was sure of his election by a majority that will not be less than 4000. Gen. Taylor said that official and semi-official returns from nearly every precinct in the State showed that he had been elected.

A special from Frankfort quotes Gov.
Bradley as saying: "Taylor has been elected by at least 10,000 majority and he will be the next Governor of Kentucky."

On the other hand, returns from Democratic sources show a plurality on the face of the returns of about 2000 for Goebel. This claim is to be backed up by returns from some missing precincts where the Democrats can hardly do worse than break even.
Goebel and Senator Blackburn in interviews at Frankfort today, openly charge the Republicans with fraud in the Eleventh District, from which the returns are coming in very slowly.

The indications point more strongly than ever to a contest before the Legislature which, there seems no reasonable doubt, will be controlled by the Democratic party. The contest will be between the two parties, and the members belonging to that party will stand together on questions affecting a contest cannot now be foretold.

The county boards of canvassers, which meet tomorrow, simply count and tabulate the returns. The State Board of Election Commissioners then reviews the work and decides all questions affecting contested ballots. This commission certifies to the Secretary of State the election of officers resulting from the returns. It is not until after the decisions of the commissioners on contested returns have been recorded. Under the Goebel law, the returns of the members of the State are confined simply to making public the result as found by the commissioners,
the language of the statute being:
"It shall be the duty of the Secretary of State immediately after the comparison of the returns to cause a statement therefrom of the votes given in every county for each candidate to be published in two newspapers."

There is no appeal from the findings of the State Board of Election Commissioners, except in the case of Governor or Lieutenant-Governor. In case of a contest for these officers, the matter goes to the Legislature. The three members of the Board of Election Commissioners who will finally pass upon the returns, were chosen under the terms of the Goebel law by the Legislature which enacted that measure.
They are Judge W. J. Pryor of Frankfort, C. B. Pointz of Mayfield and W.
J. Ellis of Owensboro. They are said to be friendly to Goebel, and all are Democrats. The law provides for a meeting of these commissioners on the fourth Monday after the election.

A large mass meeting of followers of the Honest Election League, the anti-Goebel men of this city, was held in the Music Hall tonight. A number of vigorous speeches teaching the voters what was at stake were made. The purpose of the Goebel people to secure the seating of their candidates without regard to law or right were adopted. A committee of three was appointed to witness the count of the ballots by the county board of canvassers.

FACTIOUS FIGHT IN STREETS.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

MIDDLEBORO, Nov. 9.—For two hours today there was intense excitement here caused by a clash between the Ball and Turner factions.
The Balls are Democrats, but espoused
the cause of Taylor for Governor.
Charles Friedman, a Turner follower, and C. D. Ball met and began shooting at each other. Their friends assembled and surrounded them.

A long-range contest, fight took place in which fifty shots were exchanged.
The factions have been at war for many months, and it is feared there will be trouble when the vote is canvassed. Lee Turner returned to the outskirts of town with a large body of men, but as yet no demonstrations have been made.

DEMOCRATS' COUNTER CLAIMS.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

FRANKFORT, Nov. 9.—Gov. Bradley is being telegraphed by hundreds of Republicans offering to come to the State capital to prevent Taylor being counted out.

Chairman Young of the Democratic State Central Committee charges the Republicans with attempting to perpetrate fraud in the mountain district at any early hour this morning.
Young says the official count by county returning boards tomorrow will give Goebel over four thousand majority.
He says also that all minor candidates on the State ticket will win. Senator Goebel received the following telegram tonight:

"WILLIAM J. BRYAN."

CHARGES OF FRAUD.

(A. P. DAY REPORT.)

LOUISVILLE, Nov. 9, 10 a.m.—
Charges of attempted fraud are being made by both parties, and especially at the Republican headquarters in this city. Senator Deboe and several prominent Republicans were at the headquarters at any early hour this morning. They have received returns from every county in the State, and say Taylor's majority will not fall below 2000.
They also say that the official figures on the State ticket will give Taylor's majority.

Private advices from ex-Senator
Blackburn at Frankfort are of an encouraging nature for Democrats, for they say Goebel has carried the State by 4000 plurality, and that the figures, when they are complete, will show his election and the election of the Democratic ticket by that plurality. It will take the official count to decide, and there are already many contests in night.

CHAIRMAN LONG'S STATEMENT.

(A. P. DAY REPORT.)

Long of the Republican Committee

safe plurality. There is no being made

BALDWIN SITE SOLD.

PORTION OF HOTEL PROPERTY PASSES FROM "LUCKY."

James L. Flood is the Purchaser—Deposit Made at the Hibernia Bank to Bind the Sale.

Final Consummation of the Transaction May Be Opposed—Foreclosure Suit Will Probably Be Brought.

Daring Hold-up at Usual—Irrigation Questions Discussed—Attorney Convicted of Forgery—Rains in the North.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—An agreement for the sale of a portion of the site of the old Baldwin Hotel was entered into and signed today. A deposit of $110,000 was placed with the Hibernia Bank by James L. Flood, the purchaser, to bind the sale. The sale that was effected today includes 180 feet front on Market street, 22 ft. 5 in. at the corner, and 175 feet on Powell street. The price agreed on was $1,100,000. The agreement was signed by Flood in person, and by Thomas M. Magee, representing E. J. Baldwin.

It is stated that Baldwin will oppose the consummation of the sale. Baldwin claims that Thomas Magee was not authorized to sell at the figure agreed on. He contends that to sell for the price named, leaving him with the less desirable portion, for which only $300,000 could be obtained, would be virtually selling the hotel site for $1,400,000, a proposition inadequate sum, according to his views.

The Hibernia Bank is much interested in the sale of enough Baldwin property to pay off the indebtedness of $1,650,000 due to that institution. Although the security for the principal is excellent, Baldwin has fallen behind in the payment of his interest, which amounts to $100,000 a year. Great was the bank's disappointment, therefore, when Baldwin, after his arrival from the southland, declared he would not be forced to accept a figure so far below his estimate of $2,000,000 as the value of the entire hotel site.

The filing of the order to sell by Flood and Magee is the first step. The next one may be the filing of a foreclosure suit by the Hibernia Bank. This would require the bank to include, after which Baldwin would have a year in which to redeem the property.

THEY GAVE HIM THE SACK.
EXCITING HOLD-UP.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
COVILLO, Nov. 9.—Advice by telephone from Laytonville gave details of an exciting hold-up of a saloon at Usual Tuesday evening. Just before dark, two strangers drove up hurriedly, and after slipping cheese-cloth masks over their faces, covered Proprietor Freitag and seven guests with revolvers. One of the bandits demanded that Freitag put his money in a sack, and at the same time tossed him one. The other ordered the seven guests to remain quiet.

Freitag demurred a moment, and the robber in an angry and impatient voice threatened to shoot him. Instantly, Freitag complied, and a shot rang out, the bullet just grazing Freitag's shoulder. The proprietor immediately placed all his available cash in a sack, and the robbers cautiously fled out, with a parting warning to remain still. They jumped into a buckboard and started toward Round Valley.

Freitag declines to state the amount of his loss, but it is believed it will exceed $2000. The robbers immediately started in pursuit of the robbers. There is no clew to their identity.

NEW POINTS ON HABEAS CORPUS.
SUPREME COURT DECISION.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The Supreme Court has handed down a decision involving a case of habeas corpus in which points were raised that have never been judicially passed upon before. In the habeas corpus case of Buchanan, who had been committed by the Superior Court of Yuba county, pending his trial upon a charge of murder. A petition for habeas corpus was then presented to Judge E. D. Ham of the Superior Court of Yuba, setting forth that the patient had recovered his sanity and was entitled to be discharged from the asylum, and be delivered into the custody of the Sheriff of Yuba, to be placed on trial before the Superior Court of Yuba, pending his trial upon a charge of murder. A petition for habeas corpus was then presented to Judge E. D. Ham of the Superior Court of Yuba, setting forth that the patient had recovered his sanity and was entitled to be discharged from the asylum, and be delivered into the custody of the Sheriff of Yuba, to be placed on trial before the Superior Court of Yuba, pending his trial upon a charge of murder.

Superintendent Dr. A. M. Gardner of the Napa asylum made return of the writ, showing the commitment of Buchanan, who had been committed by the Superior Court of Yuba, pending his trial upon a charge of murder. He claimed that Buchanan cannot be delivered to the Sheriff of Yuba county except upon the certificate of the superintendent of the asylum, showing that the patient had recovered his sanity. Judge Jones decided that the superintendent's point was not well taken, and issued the writ, making it returnable before the acting judge of the court, who was Judge Joseph P. Jones of Contra Costa county.

In an opinion written by Commissioner Chipman, the decision of Judge Jones is sustained, and Justice McFarland, in a concurring paragraph, adds that the right to the benefits of habeas corpus is sacred and cannot be abridged.

TERRILL GUILTY OF FORGERY.

OTHER CHARGES PENDING.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN JOSE, Nov. 9.—Samuel B. Terrill, the attorney, was found guilty by a jury in the Superior Court this evening of the forgery of a mortgage, having previously been convicted of the forgery of a note. The amount was $350 in each instance, and R. J. Howe was the prosecuting witness. Terrill was his own attorney, and obtained a recommendation to mercy. There are several more charges pending against him.

BERKELEY, Nov. 9.—The big meteoric shower which astronomers predict for next week, is to be made a subject of special study by the department of astronomy in the University of California. Under the direction of Prof. A. M. Leuschner, preparations are being made for such records to be taken as will prove of interest to the general public. Special observations will be conducted in conjunction with the observatory at Mount Hamilton. Photographs will be taken and special features noted.

The special object to be obtained is the determination of the radiant, the point in which the paths of the different meteors, if produced, would meet. The exact location of this point is necessary for the calculations of the orbit of the meteors about the sun. Besides the determination of the radiant point, a count of the number of meteors appearing at given intervals will be kept, in order to find out the densest portion of the swarm.

CALIFORNIA IRRIGATION.
QUESTIONS DISCUSSED.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The San Francisco delegation to the convention to be held next week under the call of the California State Association for the Storage of Flood Waters met this evening at the Palace Hotel and made preliminary arrangements for the convention, which will be called to order next Tuesday morning.

Incidentally the subject of the opposition of the delegates from Southern California to the State plan was discussed. President Thomas said there were points in the National Irrigation Association's plan upon which the advocates of the State plan could agree. He believed that all were agreed that it was advisable to get from the government all that the government would give, but he reiterated that the government has no ownership of the water in a stream, nor does it own the bed of the stream, and that all its rights, constitutionally, in the matter are to regulate navigation between States and with foreign countries; also that if the government were to construct storage reservoirs for the purpose of maintaining the levels of rivers, there could be no help for irrigators from that source. The meeting was well attended. Chief Justice Beatty presided.

He has relatives by marriage here, and they say he left home with $1500. He has no money now. He is about 40 years of age.

CORBETT THE NEXT.
BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] James J. Corbett is to come out of his pugilistic retirement and fight James J. Jeffries for the championship and all the money that a well-advertised fight will draw. W. A. Brady, manager for Jeffries, said positively today that he had promised Corbett the match, and that he would keep his word. He added that there would be a meeting in a few days to sign the articles.

Corbett has been saying all along that he would get the first fight with Jeffries, and today, when somebody disputed him, he offered to bet $1000 that he would be the first to sign with and fight the new champion. Corbett was elated tonight when he was told what Brady had said. He said Jeffries could take his time, and that he did not expect to fight for six months.

When W. A. Brady, Jeffries's manager, issued a statement on behalf of Fitzsimmons, he said: "Oh, let Fitzsimmons and Sharkey fight, and then let them match Jeffries against the winner."

TAMFORAN PARK WINNERS.
CAMPOS'S WALKOVER.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—The Tamforan Park was slow today, owing to the mud, and there were several surprises to the talent. Dr. Sheppard, at 1 to 5, and Marcato at 3 to 5, came in first, but owing to the good riding of Eddie Jones, Campos, a 10-to-1 shot, came in an easy winner. The five-furlong race for two-year-olds was won by Ray Keston, who sold as good as 5 to 1. The crowd unloaded on Tullamore, the mount of Burns, to win the closing five-furlong dash, and Potente struck the wire two lengths before him. Burns lost ground by a sweeping turn into the stretch for home, while J. Walsh, on Potente, cut across winning cleverly. Flanagan, a 50-to-1 chance, backed down to 8 to 1, ran into the shoe.

REAL LIVE DUKE AN ACTOR.

FROHMAN'S NEW CARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Duke of Manchester, that blasé young Englishman, who wants to try the stage after a frolicsome sporting campaign, arrived here this morning on the White Star liner Oceanic. Frohman's have made Manchester an alluring offer to join Julia Matthews's company, and Bruce Edwards, representing them, and that lady, met him at Quarantine this morning.

The Duke said he had not made up his mind just what he would do, and beyond visiting Philadelphia and having some fun, said he had no plans. He took occasion to deny that he had been in love with Cleo de Merode, Fougere and half a dozen other women in and out of the theatrical profession, and said those racy stories were all inventions. He did own up to getting together with Jean Wilson, cousin of Muriel Wilson.

The Duke has real dramatic ability, and is probably the best amateur actor in England. He would be handsome if he were not so badly looking. He travels with secretary, valet and two dogs, and secured a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria.

Electrolysis of Pipes.

In spite of the disposition of some electrical engineers to regard the dangers of electrolysis from overhead trolley currents as easily remediable, the question is becoming very serious, and there is no escaping the fact that the water and gas pipes of most cities where trolley lines are operating are being more or less injured from this cause. Instances of litigation for damages for electrolysis are multiplying daily, and at Peoria, Ill., one of the most serious cases has occurred. It has been the suit against the local street railway company by the city waterworks, whose system was practically ruined by the electrolytic action of the fugitive currents from the trolley lines. In an investigation into the influence of electrolysis on the mains of the city of Peoria, Ill., it was found that those constructed of cast iron were unaffected. The expert conducting the investigation, in seeking for an explanation of this fact, says that the cast iron mains are much less easily corroded on the rough exterior than when the head of the metal is exposed, that a protecting skin which is possibly due to a surface chilling at the time of casting, or to a combination with the sand of the mould, covers the pipes. It is yet unsettled whether this protecting quality is due to its covering up a counter electromotive force greater than that which exists in the ground under the condition of well bonded rails, or to its possessing a high specific resistance which prevents a strong flow of current, and is proposed to appoint a commission to consider the matter of electrolytic corrosion in Brooklyn, and in the mean time a chart

Free Masonry in the Transval.

The London Chronicle recently printed a story of Free Masonry on Majuba Hill. "A slightly wounded commissariat officer was being covered by the rifle of a Boer sharpshooter, when the former made a Masonic sign. The Boer lowered his rifle, and, stepping over to the other, made him a prisoner, but treated him in especially hospitable fashion as a brother member of the craft. The commissariat man ascertained that Mr. Kruger and Gen. Joubert were also Free Masons." In connection with this an "Old Mason" writes: "The story is not a solitary instance. Many similar touching incidents occurred during the Franco-Boer war. Not only are President Kruger and Piet Joubert enthusiastic Free Masons, but practically every educated Boer belongs to the order. Most of the British officers also belong to the craft." During the last Transval war an appeal was sent by the Grand Orient of the Netherlands to the M.W. G.M., the Prince of Wales, entreating him as a brother to use his influence in favor of peace. The Prince replied that, as this was a political question, he could not intervene.

United States Will Acquire the Finest Harbor in the Pacific Ocean by the Terms of the Agreement.

German Colonial Council Approves the Arrangement and Praises the Emperor and Count Buelow for It.

English Papers Express Satisfaction at Settlement Considered by the Seal on Our Policy of Expansion.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—So far the State Department has received no official statement of the agreement between Great Britain and Germany as to the Samoan Islands. However, the officials do not doubt the accuracy of the press reports.

The chief interest of the United States in the Samoan archipelago was the preservation of our rights in the harbor of Pago Pago, a large bay which was secured to us by the treaty of 1878. This did not give us any absolute property in the island; it was provided that it was to remain in force for ten years from its date, and was then terminable on twelve months' notice by either party. By a similar arrangement in 1878, the German government had a right to the establishment of a naval station in Salafuta Harbor in the island of Upolu, and in the same year Great Britain acquired the right to establish a naval station on the shores of a Samoan harbor, to be hereafter designated by the British government. This privilege not applying to the harbors of Apia or Salafuta, nor to that part of the harbor of Pago Pago to be hereafter selected by the government of the United States as a station under their treaty with Samoa.

By the arrangement recently made between the governments of the United States, Great Britain and Germany, the United States becomes possessed of all the islands of the Samoan group which lie east of the 171st meridian of longitude. These islands comprise Tutuila, where is situated the harbor of Pago Pago, and further east, Manua, Oloa, Ofoe and Rose islands. Outside of Tutuila in this group there is no harbor and but one anchorage, situated on the northwest side of Manua. In Savali there is only one harbor for ships, that of Matutu, exposed at all seasons, and moreover during the period from December to April, when the north winds are prevalent, it is dangerous. In the island of Upolu there is no first-class harbor. The harbor of Salafuta would require very considerable expenditure to make it of any value while the inadequacy of Apia as a harbor was clearly shown in the terribly destructive tempest of a few years ago.

But in the island of Tutuila, besides five reef harbors similar to that of Upolu, there is the harbor of Pago Pago, which is a deep and land-locked harbor, in whose approach and perfect security for vessels of all tonnage, and in whose value all the other islands of the group. It is generally considered by naval experts the finest harbor in the Pacific Ocean.

GERMANS APPROVE AGREEMENT.

—PRAISE THE EMPEROR.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]
BERLIN, Nov. 9.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Colonial Council, at a meeting today, has approved the Samoan agreement. Prince von Waldersee declared that thanks were due firstly to the Emperor, and called for three cheers for His Majesty. A telegram was dispatched to the Emperor expressing the Council's gratification at the ending of the Samoan dispute, "to the imperial glory and the honor of the Emperor and the honor of Germany."

Continuing, the telegram said: "The government, which knew its purpose, was powerful enough to attain it, having succeeded in overcoming difficulties which appeared almost insuperable. The name of Samoa is indissolubly bound up with the early beginning of German colonial dominion. German industry and German pioneer work, and the blood of brave German sailors has made Samoa German, and the German people could not entertain the thought of giving up the island." The telegram then proceeded to express to the Emperor the council's humblest congratulations on the new acquisition, begging His Majesty to be pleased to accept the assurance of its unflinching confidence in his government.

A telegram was also sent to Count von Buelow, German Minister of Foreign Affairs, thanking him for his brilliant colonial success, which, it said, might well be described as thoroughly national, and declaring that the latter possessed the undivided, entire confidence of all the colonial circles in the Fatherland.

—ENGLISH SATISFACTION.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]
LONDON, Nov. 9.—The afternoon papers here express satisfaction at the Samoan settlement. They are especially gratified at the evidence of the continued good feeling between the three nations.

The acquisition of Tutuila by the United States is regarded as setting the seal on the position of the highest interests of the United States, and a great development of the United States navy is anticipated and welcomed.

ROSEATE DIPLOMATIC VIEW.

NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

[A. P. EARLY A. M. REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says: "The German Emperor has again succeeded in commanding the attention of Europe and increasing his personal prestige and influence. He received yesterday at Potsdam with pomp, splendor and cordiality the Czar and Czarina of Russia, who had been visiting their relations in Hesse, and there were conferences between Count Muraviev and the German Chancellor, and other high dignitaries of state. These courtesies were a concession to the old school of diplomacy, which, then trained by Bismarck, believed that the highest interests of Germany were promoted by a good understanding and secret agreements with Russia."

"The day fixed for this meeting of the two sovereigns was also chosen for the official announcement of various secret arrangements made with England in advance of the German Emperor's visit to the Queen. These include the renunciation of English rights in Samoa in favor of Germany. Compensation for England were found in the cession of two easterly islands of the Solomon group, and the abandonment of German rights in the Tonga group and Savage Islands; the abolition of German consular jurisdiction in Zanzibar, and an arrangement for the delimitation of British and German frontiers in the Hinterland of Tanganyika.

"These exchanges of territory and jurisdiction are too intricate to be understood except by experts of the Royal Geographical Society, although the leader writers make a brave attempt to explain them in today's London journals."

"What is of the highest significance is the evidence that England and Germany are heartily in accord and standing by each other. No European believes that the Berlin announcement, confirmed by the Foreign Office here, is a complete disclosure of the secret agreement between England and Germany. The deepest things are still unrevealed, but enough is laid bare to prove that Lord Salisbury has secured a free hand in South Africa and the cooperation of Germany in preventing European intrigues or interference which the British army is fighting a great battle in a remote quarter of the empire."

"Bismarck's secret understanding with Russia. The German Emperor has become England's ally, and he allows the world to know it on the day when he embraces the Czar and drinks his health. He also justifies the elaborate preparations made by the royal family for welcoming him to England, with the Duke of Connaught and the Duke of York and Sheerness, with the Prince of Wales to meet him at the station at Windsor, with the Queen herself to stand at the head of the grand staircase with the portraits of his grandfather and father to look down upon him on the walls of the famous tapestry room, and with all England's outside ready to proclaim him a royal friend and sturdy ally—the same England that was eager to have war with Germany four years ago."

"Another coincidence which does not escape observation here is that this secret understanding was made the day after American elections, in which the party in power has secured a general verdict of popular approval. It has made assumptions with confidence that England has not sacrificed American friendship or interests in the Samoan settlement, and that the partition of territory between the United States and Germany has received the sanction of three powers concerned in the tripartite convention which has been a practical method of governing the group. Leader writers for the press take this view, and also forecast a hearty German cooperation in the Department's new policy requiring European guarantees for an open door in the Far East and equality of commercial privileges for all maritime nations. This view is justified by the latest dispatches from Berlin. Everything, indeed, points to the full accord of three powers in all these arrangements."

German Emperor, warned last year that his attitude toward America has helped to bring the United States and England into close and friendly relations. He has made approaches to both, and the three greatest industrial commercial nations of the world are now brought into a circle of good feeling and common interest without a formal convention or an entangling alliance."

AMERICAN-GERMAN COMMERCIAL.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]
BERLIN, Nov. 9.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A private cable dispatch to the bureau which is preparing the commercial treaties indicate that the United States will create a special customs official who will be final arbiter in controversies regarding the value of dutiable goods, and the duties on new products brought into the market.

The correspondent here of the Associated Press also learns that the authorities at Washington will send to Germany instruments of ratification of the American system of inspecting meats intended for export, with the hope that Germany will thereby be induced to adopt a similar system. The fact is officially appreciated here that toward the American tariff policy is due to the election of the German Emperor, and measures regarding meat imports.

NATIVES ARE QUIET.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
APIA (Samoa Islands), Oct. 31.—[Wired from Auckland, Nov. 9.] Various reports of natives are satisfactory. The outcome of the report of the international commission. A much more quiet spirit than formerly existed is being displayed.

WORK OF FIENDS.

PASSENGER TRAIN DELIBERATELY WRECKED IN OHIO.

Bolts Found to Have Been Carefully Unscrewed by Unknown Hands. Three Persons Seriously Injured and Many Others Painfully Hurt. Engineer's Presence of Mind.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
TOLEDO, O., Nov. 9.—Michigan Central train, No. 310, headed for Detroit, was ditched by the spreading of the rails between Alexis and Vienna, Mich., about 8 o'clock tonight. Three persons were seriously injured. They are: JOHN M'KAY, Indianapolis; JOHN O'NEIL, Detroit; fireman; WILLIAM HAMILTON, engineer.

Seven other persons were painfully hurt, but of fifty or twenty others were badly shaken up.

William Hamilton, the engineer, was thrown through the window of his cab, but though perhaps fatally injured, retained sufficient presence of mind when he recovered from the shock to hurry to his engine and draw the fire, thus preventing an explosion.

The accident was the result of a deliberate piece of work by unknown train-wreckers, and happened at a point just beyond a short trestle where the rails spread it was found that the bolts that had held the fish-plates had been unscrewed. The nuts were still on the ties, and the threads of the bolts were not marring in any way. A couple of big wrenches, such as section hands use, were found lying near the track, indicating how the rails had been loosened.

Figs in Missouri.

[Kansas City Journal.] Ten years ago, when Judge and Mrs. T. J. Johnston returned to Maryville from Florida, where they had lived eighteen months, the latter brought with her banana fruit and orange trees, and a small fruit and nut tree. She adopted the practice of keeping them in a cellar during the winter, and of planting them in the ground in the early spring. The banana plant died in a short time, but the orange and fig trees, the Tribune says, are still alive, and have borne fruit every year. The oranges produced have been small, but they have always ripened. There is a popular belief that figs cannot be successfully raised so far north as this part of Missouri, and Mrs. Johnston shared it until this fall. In former years the tree has put forth fruit, but it has always fallen off before it became ripe. This year, however, the season was so favorable that it remained on until ripe, and Mrs. Johnston now has the satisfaction of serving on her table figs that were raised and preserved in Missouri.

DYING CLUTCH.

is now confident it will go over 2000. He also claimed a majority in the Legislature on joint ballot of about thirty-five. Instead of twenty-five, several Democrats having been elected in counties at first thought to be Republican. Gov. Bradley insists that Taylor has been elected by 10,000.

WESTERN UNION FIGURES.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]
CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 9.—The Western Union issued the following bulletin today on the Kentucky election:

"Kentucky, with complete returns from 81 counties, and incomplete returns from 32, making a total of 113 counties out of 119, three counties remaining unreported, give Taylor 165,098; Goebel, 163,815; leaving Taylor's plurality 1,283. Of the three counties unreported, one gave in 1897 a Democratic plurality of 250, and two gave a Republican plurality of 1135, the difference being 885. The unreported counties are Knott, Leslie and Martin."

ANTI-FRAUD MOVEMENT.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 9.—Twelve hundred citizens of all parties met at the opera-house tonight to devise methods to prevent alleged election frauds. Judges George Denney and R. A. Thornton made addresses counseling force if necessary to prevent fraud. W. C. P. Breckinridge and J. C. Bronston were more temperate. The former pointed out how Bradley may, under the constitution, be elected Governor until his successor is qualified or until the Federal court settles the question. One thousand dollars was contributed to prosecute alleged election frauds in this county.

NEWSPAPER ESTIMATES.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 10.—The Courier-Journal's returns, received up to 2 o'clock a.m., cover all but thirty-five precincts in the State. They give Goebel a net plurality of 947, one of the missing precincts are in Democratic counties, and twenty-five are in Republican counties. In the Courier-Journal's returns, however, the several counties from which their correspondents report estimated and not actual pluralities. Returns received by the Courier-Journal (Rep.) from every hour, give Taylor a net plurality of 2438 in the State.

FIGURES FROM PENNSYLVANIA. BARNETT'S PLURALITY.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 9.—Complete figures from every county in the State, nearly all of them unofficial footings of the official returns, show that the plurality of Barnett (Rep.) for State Treasurer over Creasey (Dem.) is 106,215.

OHIO DEMOCRATS MAKE CLAIMS.

LIEUTENANT-GOVERNORSHIP.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 9.—A flurry was created in political circles today by the claims of the Democratic State Committee that Patrick (Dem.) had been elected Lieutenant-Governor over Caldwell (Rep.). The returns show that Caldwell had been cut heavily as the result of the fight made against him by the Anti-Saloon League.

Returns from seventy counties give Caldwell a plurality of 5278. The remaining eighteen counties gave Nash a plurality of 12,166, and as they are all strongly Republican, Chairman Dick claims the election of Caldwell with the greatest confidence.

It is claimed that Caldwell's plurality over Patrick will not be less than 5000. Revised figures on the head of the ticket show that Nash's plurality is 50,525.

A DISPUTED PLURALITY.

[A. P. DAY REPORT.]
COLUMBUS, Nov. 9.—Incomplete returns from all counties, as reported to the Republican State headquarters, give Nash (Rep.) a plurality of 59,364, a net Republican gain of 10,000 over the vote of 1897. The Democrats are not willing to concede the State by over 40,000. Their figures give Nash a plurality in Popularity in the State of 79,490, and McLean a plurality of 40,280 in the Democratic counties, making Nash's estimated plurality in the State 39,160.

No figures have been made on the total vote in this State by either committee, and the result will not be known until the official count is made by the Secretary of State. The vote for Jones (Ind.) for Governor, according to estimates given out at both Republican and Democratic headquarters, will be 100,000. The returns from Cleveland, Columbus, Toledo and other manufacturing towns, showed the 60 per cent of the independent votes came from the Democrats.

The Legislature stands: House, Republicans, 62; Democrats, 44; doubtful, 4; Senate, Republicans, 18; Democrats, 11; doubtful, 2.

WARRANT FOR RHINOCK.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
CINCINNATI, Nov. 9.—On election day at Covington, Ky., Mayor J. L. Rhinock, conducted a body of policemen to each of the various polling places and hustled out the Republican inspectors. An appeal to the courts restored the elected inspectors, before the day closed. Today warrants were sworn out for the arrest of Mayor Rhinock and his police force, charging them with interfering with the election. Tomorrow 150 more warrants will be sworn out with the same charges. The charge is that they obeyed Mayor Rhinock's orders.

HOLCOMB'S FUSION MAJORITY.

THE NEWEST RETURNS.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]
LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 9.—Complete returns from 87 of the 90 counties in the State give Holcomb (Fusion) 103,561; Reese (Rep.) 90,259; a Fusion majority of 13,302. The remaining counties, based on last year's vote, will make the Fusion majority in the State 14,600.

Fusionists elect Neville to Congress in the Sixth District.

HIS THINKER ACTS QUEERLY.

ATKINSON'S CONCLUSION.

[A. P. EARLY A. M. REPORT.]
BOSTON, Nov. 9.—Edward Atkinson, in an interview regarding the results of the recent elections, said: "It is too early yet to draw many conclusions from the election as affecting the anti-imperialist cause, but there is one conclusion quite apparent, especially in Ohio. The administration is in a minority. The atrocities of the Philippine war are condemned."

If the efforts to subjugate the Philippine Islands should drag on until the next election, which I very much doubt, all members of Congress of either party who support criminal aggression will be defeated in Ohio, and also in other States.

"I anticipate a very great change in the conduct of affairs by the administration after this election, but lest it should not come, the dominant minority now opposing the policy of the administration under the name of anti-imperialists, will control the next House of Representatives. About Massachusetts there is not much to say. The character and well-known opinions of Gov. Crane are all in his favor. His cordial support of Senator Hoar is well assured, and there has been no special opposition on the part of the anti-imperialists to his election."

ILL ALONG THE LINE.

The importance of the oil developments by the Santa Fe Company at Fullerton is shown by the fact that the company is about to construct a railway from Santa Ana Cañon to the oil wells, a distance of four and a half miles.

Los Angeles now has not only several proposed tourist hotels, and a proposed exposition building, but also a proposed new theater, the same to be located on Broadway, an offer having been made, it is said, by a property owner to a local manager, for the erection of an up-to-date building, provided the latter will give a bond for a ten years' lease.

The orange-growers of Southern California are threatened with a pest which would be even worse than the white scale that did so much damage ten years ago. This is the Morales orange worm, a Mexican pest, which hovers in the air, and actually gnaws the pleasure of those who bite into an orange in which one of the worms has taken up its residence. The growers of this section will take some action toward excluding this dangerous pest, and will ask the Horticultural Commission and the railroads to help them.

The ingenuity of F. J. Cressey in organizing secret societies for himself is equaled only by the smartness of Dana Burks in taking himself out of his chances for political place or recognition. These two fantastic feather-weight statesmen who think they are candidates for assistant postmaster-tobe, have slain themselves with the weapon (guaranteed by themselves) that was Samson's favorite. Cressey originated a silly tale about the list of his club, and Burks followed his lead with a second false edition of the yarn, and huddled like a babe about local politics to a Democratic paper. It is a dead heat between Cressey and Burks for the appointment as second assistant inspector of postholes for Garvanza precinct.

The Chamber of Commerce, which has been doing good work in behalf of the orange-growers of Southern California in the matter of fighting the proposed reciprocity treaty with Jamaica, has prepared a table that should open the eyes of those who are inclined to regard the question as one of little moment. This table shows that in 1885, 300,000 barrels and 46,000 boxes of oranges were imported into the United States from Jamaica; in 1894 253,000 barrels and 23,000 boxes; in 1897 296,000 barrels and 18,000 boxes, and in 1898, 157,000 boxes and 18,000 barrels were also imported. The orange-shippers are taking an encouraging interest in the movement, and the orange-growers of Central and Northern California, as well as those of Florida, are also becoming interested.

A recent decision in the United States court, affecting property in the Coalinga oil field of Fresno county, has, it is said, been somewhat exaggerated as to its importance in the published reports. It has been stated that the decision practically affected the ownership of all the oil land in the Coalinga field, whereas those who are well-informed, claim that it only involves the ownership of a lease of 160 acres, in the heart of the oil district. This, however, is not the only suit pending up there. The entire Coalinga oil field is plastered over with locations, two and three deep, and the lawyers are likely to reap a harvest there. The new mining law, passed by the last State Legislature, has added to the complication, as it is believed by many to be in conflict with the Federal law, and therefore unconstitutional.

LEGAL ACTION IS DEFERRED UNTIL AFTER MONDAY.

Deemed Best to Have a Fourth Member

Mrs. Edna Belle Brown, Disinherited, Contests the Will of Her Father
in Judge Mahon's Court.

New Grand Jury Chosen—Adolph Neuman Acquitted of Arson—Mandamus Proceedings in Pomona Ordnance Fight.

It was yesterday decided to defer legal action to oust the old police board until after the Council had elected a fourth member on the new board. This the new commission decided upon after a lengthy consultation with Councilmen and attorneys. If the consent of the Attorney-General is obtained to quo-warranto proceedings suit will be begun in the superior court to obtain the seats of the old commissioners.

It developed yesterday that the officers in the police department may not be able to cash their monthly demands for pay next month. The Mayor may refuse to approve demands that have not been passed upon by the old Police Commission, and the five Councilmen may refuse to approve any demands that have not passed through the hands of the new commission. City Auditor Carson asserts that in either event he will not audit the demands until assured that they are perfectly regular.

The Park Commission met yesterday morning and transacted considerable routine business. The boating privilege at Eastlake Park was let for a period of two years. The bicycle boat in Hollenbeck Park was discussed at some length by the commission.

When Frank Vernon died, in 1897, he left his entire estate valued at $600,000 to his brother, Milton Vernon, disinheriting his adopted daughter, Mrs. Edna Belle Brown, to whom he left only $25. She is now contesting the will in Judge Mahon's court.

Thirty men were drawn in Judge Smith's court yesterday to comprise the new grand jury.

Adolph Neuman was acquitted of the charge of arson yesterday.

An alternative writ of mandamus was issued yesterday, upon application of Ed B. Rives of Pomona, against the City Recorder of that place, directing the latter to grant a change of venue in an action against Rives for an alleged violation of a municipal liquor ordinance.

LEGAL ACTION DEFERRED.

RECRUIT AWAITED BY THE NEW
POLICE COMMISSION.

Final Action to Secure the Places
of the Old Commissioners Will Not
Be Taken Until a Successor to
Thomas Hughes is Appointed—Fire
Commission Proceedings.

The new board of Police Commissioners has decided to defer legal action until next week. After a long consultation it has been deemed best to wait until a fourth commissioner, to replace Thomas Hughes, has been appointed by the Council. The new commission professes to have legal advice that anything it may decide to do as a body will be just as binding now as after the new commissioner has been appointed, but for many reasons it has seemed best to the commissioners and to the five Councilmen who voted to place them in power that action be deferred until after the Council session on Monday.

E. A. Ling, a new commissioner from the First Ward, did not leave the north yesterday as intended. When seen in the afternoon he said that the commissioners had decided to postpone action until after the Council session on Monday. By that time the fourth commissioner, to take the place of Thomas Hughes, who did not resign, would have been elected. Ling will be able to go before the Attorney-General representing a full Board of Police Commissioners. A complaint setting forth the claims of the new commissioners and including a transcript of the proceedings of the Council was prepared yesterday, but now that it has been decided to wait until a fourth commissioner has been elected, a new complaint will be prepared. When asked how long the case would take, Ling said that a month or six weeks at the outside should suffice for a full hearing of the case, and he thought a decision could be reached in that period of time. Ling said that he did not believe that the Attorney-General could refuse to bring the proceedings, as the grounds for action were too strong.

W. B. Scarborough, who made the strongest fight against adopting the Chief's report in the Police Commission, was interrogated regarding the reasons for delay on the part of the new commission. Scarborough has all the time claimed that he was active from a purely non-partisan standpoint, and for what he believed to be the best interests of the city. With regard to the postponement he said:

"It has been claimed by some that this fight was a political one, and that some of the commissioners were actuated by party politics when they refused to listen to the dictates of the Chief. While I do not believe that the majority of reputable business men believe this, yet it has seemed best to the new commissioners to avoid any semblance of political play in connection with this matter. At the present time two of the commissioners on the new board, Mr. Parker and myself, owe allegiance to the Democratic party. As there are but three Democrats now on this board, it might be said that action was taken by a Democratic majority. In view of this fact it has seemed best to wait until the Council elects a man to serve in place of Thomas Hughes, who failed to qualify. This man will be elected on Monday, and of course will be a Republican. We will then have a full legal board as provided for by the City Charter, and on Tuesday the acts of last Tuesday will be reviewed and confirmed."

"There has been a great deal of talk lately about a new Chief. I firmly believe that one will soon be elected, but thus far the man has not been named. He will be a man whose standing in the community is beyond reproach, and whose honesty and integrity cannot be doubted. He will also be a Republican. The Democrats on the board have not the slightest intention of urging the claims of any partisan, and the man will not be named by them. I know that the five members of the Council have firmly made up their minds to carry this thing through, and no back steps will be taken. There may be a short delay, but the new commission will soon be in power. When this has been accomplished decisive steps will be taken at once to improve the efficiency of the police department."

There is little doubt but that the five Councilmen have made up their minds to maintain their original position in the fight between the new and old Police Commissions. The Mayor's plan of having the commercial bodies of the city submit a list of names, from whom the Council should elect four, to act as a board of police commissioners does not meet the approval of any of the five Councilmen. Messrs. Pierce and Lauder expressed themselves opposed to the proposition Wednesday, and the three others expressed similar sentiments yesterday. Councilman Todd said that the Council would stand firm in the position which had been taken. Councilman Blanchard said that as long as there was any nominating of police commissioners to be done, the Council would do it. Councilman Russell said he did not think that any of the Council had ever considered the Mayor's proposition seriously.

It is expected that any further sensational developments in the police matter will occur. The new and the old commissions will fight the matter out in the courts, which, as a rule, are sufficiently deliberate in settling such disputes. Public interest is at present on the qui vive regarding the man who will be elected to the remaining position on the Police Commission. No clew to the new member has yet been obtained, and the five Councilmen assert that they do not know to whom the position will be offered.

One new phase of the Police Commission tangle came to light yesterday. The regular monthly demand for pay in the department have to be approved by the Police Commission, the Council and the Mayor before the City Auditor will audit and approve them for presentation on the treasury. The officers in the department may find themselves tossed on the horns of a very bad dilemma when their next month's pay is due. The five members of the Council may refuse to approve any salary demands that have not been approved by the Board of Police Commissioners which they have elected. On the other hand, the Mayor may refuse to give his sanction to any demand that has not been passed by the old police board.

City Auditor Carson says that no matter which one of the bodies approves the demands, he will refuse to audit them until the question has been finally settled. "I cannot afford to endanger my position," said he yesterday, "and shall refuse to audit police demands unless assured that I am right in so doing."

Mr. Ling will go north the first of next week with carefully prepared papers setting forth the contention of the new commissioners. He will go to Judge Smith's court yesterday to comprise the new grand jury.

Adolph Neuman was acquitted of the charge of arson yesterday.

An alternative writ of mandamus was issued yesterday, upon application of Ed B. Rives of Pomona, against the City Recorder of that place, directing the latter to grant a change of venue in an action against Rives for an alleged violation of a municipal liquor ordinance.

LEGAL ACTION DEFERRED.

RECRUIT AWAITED BY THE NEW
POLICE COMMISSION.

Final Action to Secure the Places
of the Old Commissioners Will Not
Be Taken Until a Successor to
Thomas Hughes is Appointed—Fire
Commission Proceedings.

The new board of Police Commissioners has decided to defer legal action until next week. After a long consultation it has been deemed best to wait until a fourth commissioner, to replace Thomas Hughes, has been appointed by the Council. The new commission professes to have legal advice that anything it may decide to do as a body will be just as binding now as after the new commissioner has been appointed, but for many reasons it has seemed best to the commissioners and to the five Councilmen who voted to place them in power that action be deferred until after the Council session on Monday.

E. A. Ling, a new commissioner from the First Ward, did not leave the north yesterday as intended. When seen in the afternoon he said that the commissioners had decided to postpone action until after the Council session on Monday. By that time the fourth commissioner, to take the place of Thomas Hughes, who did not resign, would have been elected. Ling will be able to go before the Attorney-General representing a full Board of Police Commissioners. A complaint setting forth the claims of the new commissioners and including a transcript of the proceedings of the Council was prepared yesterday, but now that it has been decided to wait until a fourth commissioner has been elected, a new complaint will be prepared. When asked how long the case would take, Ling said that a month or six weeks at the outside should suffice for a full hearing of the case, and he thought a decision could be reached in that period of time. Ling said that he did not believe that the Attorney-General could refuse to bring the proceedings, as the grounds for action were too strong.

W. B. Scarborough, who made the strongest fight against adopting the Chief's report in the Police Commission, was interrogated regarding the reasons for delay on the part of the new commission. Scarborough has all the time claimed that he was active from a purely non-partisan standpoint, and for what he believed to be the best interests of the city. With regard to the postponement he said:

"It has been claimed by some that this fight was a political one, and that some of the commissioners were actuated by party politics when they refused to listen to the dictates of the Chief. While I do not believe that the majority of reputable business men believe this, yet it has seemed best to the new commissioners to avoid any semblance of political play in connection with this matter. At the present time two of the commissioners on the new board, Mr. Parker and myself, owe allegiance to the Democratic party. As there are but three Democrats now on this board, it might be said that action was taken by a Democratic majority. In view of this fact it has seemed best to wait until the Council elects a man to serve in place of Thomas Hughes, who failed to qualify. This man will be elected on Monday, and of course will be a Republican. We will then have a full legal board as provided for by the City Charter, and on Tuesday the acts of last Tuesday will be reviewed and confirmed."

"There has been a great deal of talk lately about a new Chief. I firmly believe that one will soon be elected, but thus far the man has not been named. He will be a man whose standing in the community is beyond reproach, and whose honesty and integrity cannot be doubted. He will also be a Republican. The Democrats on the board have not the slightest intention of urging the claims of any partisan, and the man will not be named by them. I know that the five members of the Council have firmly made up their minds to carry this thing through, and no back steps will be taken. There may be a short delay, but the new commission will soon be in power. When this has been accomplished decisive steps will be taken at once to improve the efficiency of the police department."

There is little doubt but that the five Councilmen have made up their minds to maintain their original position in the fight between the new and old Police Commissions. The Mayor's plan of having the commercial bodies of the city submit a list of names, from whom the Council should elect four, to act as a board of police commissioners does not meet the approval of any of the five Councilmen. Messrs. Pierce and Lauder expressed themselves opposed to the proposition Wednesday, and the three others expressed similar sentiments yesterday. Councilman Todd said that the Council would stand firm in the position which had been taken. Councilman Blanchard said that as long as there was any nominating of police commissioners to be done, the Council would do it. Councilman Russell said he did not think that any of the Council had ever considered the Mayor's proposition seriously.

It is expected that any further sensational developments in the police matter will occur. The new and the old commissions will fight the matter out in the courts, which, as a rule, are sufficiently deliberate in settling such disputes. NOT GUILTY OF ARSON.
NEUMAN ACQUITTED.

Adolph Neuman, who has been on trial in Judge Smith's court since Monday morning, on a charge of arson, was acquitted by the jury yesterday afternoon. Neuman is an Austrian, who gave himself notoriety some weeks ago by an attempt to escape from Ballif Downie on his way from the County Jail to the courtroom. It was alleged that Neuman attempted to destroy by fire a large double house at No. 110 North Fremont street, for the purpose of collecting the insurance. Neuman, however, proved an alibi, in that he was at the theatre on the night of the blaze, which took place about 10:30 p.m. The jury was out about four hours, and on Thursday at 10 o'clock returned a verdict of acquittal. On the night of the fire Neuman left the premises about 5 p.m., and was not seen to return until after 11 o'clock. The testimony proved this point conclusively. It is strongly believed by some that the Austrian, in the prosecution just ended, was the victim of a scheme to railroad him to the penitentiary.

LIQUOR ORDINANCE FIGHT.
MANDAMUS BEGUN.

The fight over the liquor ordinance at Pomona is assuming colossal proportions. Application was made yesterday by Ed B. Rives for a writ of mandamus compelling L. C. Hannum, City Recorder of Pomona, to call in some justice of the peace, before whom an action pending against the applicant may be tried. The ordinance was presented to Judge Smith yesterday morning by Rives's attorney, A. B. Young, Esq., and an alternative writ, returnable November 20, was issued.

Rives is a druggist at Pomona. On October 22, a complaint was filed against him, charging him with a misdemeanor in keeping a place where beer was sold without the prescription of a physician, for medicinal or mechanical purposes, the special offense alleged being the sale of beer to one M. Overman, contrary to a municipal ordinance of the city of Pomona. A trial ensued, but the jury disagreed to the tune of six to six, necessitating a new trial.

On the 12th inst., when the matter was up before the Recorder to be set for trial again, Rives filed an affidavit asking that a justice of the peace be called in to try the case. He alleged that he feared he could not obtain a fair and impartial trial before Recorder Hannum. The matter was argued at length, but the court decided against Rives. He alleges that Justice of the Peace U. E. White could have given him a fair hearing, and so determined is he to have the case tried before a justice of the peace that mandamus proceedings have been instituted.

NEW GRAND JURY DRAWN.

The new grand jury was drawn in Judge Smith's court yesterday afternoon. The panel comprises thirty men, as is as follows: A. C. Shafer, E. C. Bachowski, Charles Forrester, Homer Laughlin, Frederick A. Atwater, P. M. Green, George E. Carter, Sidney M. Mercer, Cyrus Willard, Samuel N. Andrews, John D. Gaylord, R. H. Howell, Charles E. Blick, Edward H. Royer, Charles Soward, H. M. Barker, John S. Gove, Harrison Fuller, John E. Murray. The jurors will report in Department One of the Superior Court on the 22d inst.

GENERAL COURTHOUSE BRIEFS.

SPECIAL LETTERS. C. J. Wade was appointed special administrator of three lots at Redondo belonging to Charles A. Brant, by Judge Mahon yesterday, preparatory to the foreclosure of a mortgage against the premises, held by the State Mutual Building and Loan Association.

PETITION TO ADOPT. E. A. Briggs and his wife, Olive E. Briggs, have filed a petition to adopt a May Day, a child born in the city of Los Angeles, to her mother, Mrs. M. M. Daly, some months ago. It is alleged that the father of the child abandoned her, and that the child was born in the city of Los Angeles, and has never been heard of since.

TO QUIET TITLE. George Montgomery, bishop of the diocese of Monterey and Los Angeles, began suit yesterday in the City of Los Angeles to quiet title to property in the vicinity of Third and Los Angeles streets.

DELEGATES APPOINTED. The Supervisors have appointed the following delegates to the irrigation convention to be held in Fresno, Cal., on Tuesday: George K. Porter, C. F. Edson, Theo. W. Kanouse, L. M. LORD MAYOR'S SHOW.

Salisbury Expresses Satisfaction at Existing Relations With America and Intimates a Conquest of the Boers.

(A. P. DAY REPORT.)

LONDON, Nov. 9.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Lord Mayor's show, which marked the induction of A. J. Newton into office, was favored today by exceptionally brilliant weather. Antiquated floats failed to satisfy the London crowds who poured out in enormous numbers to vent their martial enthusiasm. The streets were lavishly decorated with flags, the absence of a detachment of the Household Cavalry, and the substitution of a number of schoolboy brigades, testified to the presence of the Boers at the front.

A car representing Great Britain surrounded by her sons, the Canadian and Australian volunteers, evoked hearty applause, as did the boys of the Duke of York's Royal Military School. The crowds, however, wanted khaki uniforms, and refused to be reconciled with the Lord Mayor's show and other emblems of purely civic power.

In introducing the new Lord Mayor at the law courts this afternoon the Recorder referred to certain charges against Newton in connection with the company promotions, and assured the justices that the Lord Mayor courted the fullest investigation. The Lord Chief Justice said he had heard the statement with considerable relief, adding that "the community would heartily rejoice when the Lord Mayor had cleared his reputation."

Newton is a director in eight companies, some of which are said to be under duress. One of these companies is described as being so notorious that Justice Wright recently declared it might be necessary to refer it to the attention of the public prosecutor.

DIPLOMACY AND DINING.

LONDON, Nov. 9.—At the Guild Hall banquet the Marquis of Salisbury, Lord Wolsley, Mr. Ritchie, Lord Hamilton, Lord Halsbury, the Lord Chief Justice, the Duke of Devonshire and a few minor diplomats were present. Chamberlain was absent. Lord Salisbury and Lord Wolsley were warmly cheered as they passed from the reception of the handkerchiefs. The Premier said: "I have had to answer for many years similar kind receptions in this hall, but never before on conditions that justified me in appealing so confidently to your sympathy and support in the present grave state of public affairs. Before turning to this serious point, my duty is to inform you of our situation in South Africa. It is the only part of our relations with other nations to which any term of apprehension or doubt can be applied."

"For several years our relations with and cordial feelings toward our kinsmen on the other side of the Atlantic have been constantly growing, and though neither we interfere in the affairs of their country, nor they interfere in the affairs of ours, we feel we can always look for sympathy and a fair hearing among those who share with us so vast a mission for the advancement of mankind."

"But perhaps you think I am sanguine in saying that on the continent of Europe we have no hostility to fear. There is undoubtedly a certain acerbity of tone among the writers for the foreign press, but I do not believe that the trend of this opinion affects the peoples of foreign nations. I am quite certain it does not affect their government, and I will say that I have noted, as one of the cheering symptoms of the present time, the happy relations existing between the United States and ourselves. [cheers] and the sympathy with which we watch their approach to the same great problems that we ourselves have to solve. That I do not say that I do not feel the greatest sympathy with their late antagonist, the kingdom of Spain. We entertain the highest hope that out of that war a blessing in disguise will grow—and an abundant growth—civilization and culture in that ancient and most interesting monarchy."

"This morning you had intelligence of an agreement between ourselves and one of the great continental States with which for many years we have entertained relations of sympathy and friendship beyond others. Samoa is not in itself a very important matter, but it was important because it constituted a subject of difference between ourselves and a nation whose good will we prize very highly. I do not know entirely the reason why the German people and government attach so much importance to Upolu, but they do, and we are very glad to find the means whereby, without in the least diminishing the rights and advantages of England, we are able to gratify their views and sentiments."

"The agreement is somewhat complicated, but roughly it may be said that the Germans had great interests in this island, because they have invested large amounts in its cultivation, and because they have constructed a great commerce, of which they are proud. The islands, therefore, are of great value to them. To us, on the other hand, islands are generally only valuable when they furnish good harbors. Upolu furnishes a very bad harbor. You will remember the great hurricane when a British man-of-war escaped, and when German and American men-of-war were driven ashore. Well, in these circumstances we were glad to receive a renunciation of the treaty claims and rights of Germany in another island, Tonga, where there is an admirable harbor. We took the harbor, and Germany took the territory in which for many reasons the Germans are interested."

"I believe we have arrived at a remarkable phenomenon—an agreement which is agreeable to both parties, but this is interesting particularly because it indicates that at the present moment our relations with the German people are all we could desire.

"The great subject that interests all of us undoubtedly is this war, adorned with so many splendid feats of heroism and skill, but saddened by so many losses. I have great difficulty in dealing with the war, and if I attempted to deal with the future I should be undertaking a task in prophecy from which the hardest would shrink. If I speak at all, it may rather be to deprecate criticisms and statements which I think unfounded than to attempt to pass judgment on what still depends upon the future for its full determination."

"Respecting the feeling expressed twice or thrice, that the want of troops is due to a want of action on the part of the government, I would point out that there have been two or three voices. Two or three months ago we were told by the most authoritative voice outside the government that there was no occasion for military preparations. Since then we have been blamed because there were no military preparations. But neither of these criticisms is at all relevant to the vents which have been taking place. It has been often said, especially abroad, that we are a strong nation attacking a weak one, but so long as the principal part of our forces is separated by an interval of five or six weeks from the field of action, it would rather be true to say that we are a weak nation fighting a strong nation. Elements of distance are very essential in this matter."

"It would have been nothing to the purpose to issue proclamations for the reserves some weeks earlier. For what was the cause of the war, and what was the cause of the ultimatum? It was not because of any demand we had made. It so happens that at the moment the ultimatum was issued we had withdrawn our demands, and there were no demands before the Transvaal government. It was because we had taken measures to increase the amount of our forces in South Africa. But if that had been done a few months sooner, exactly the same result would have been taken place. The moment you had shown signs of raising your force to an equality with the force of South Africa, that moment the ultimatum would have been issued and war would have begun."

"It is not, therefore, right to say that there is not adequate military preparation. The dates further back it dates to those unfortunate arrangements in 1881 and 1884, by which we deliberately permitted the community to become hostile, to enjoy the unbounded, unlimited right of accumulating munitions of war against us. Year after year we have been accumulating these arrangements, it was impossible they should have been so long in coming into effect. The interval of trial and danger necessary to intervene between the moment when war was declared and the moment when our forces could accept contest and appear upon the field."

"That interval has nearly passed. Our troops are beginning to arrive. Foreign nations have complimented us upon the calmness with which we have received the intelligence of occasional checks. Whatever strategy there might be, we are well aware that the beginning of our conflict with the Boers must be marked by a retirement of our troops from positions they are not strong enough to occupy. It is necessary that we should wait for sufficient reinforcements. I do not attempt to forecast the future. I only say that my faith in the British soldier is unbounded, and I am deeply gratified to feel that he is in the vigorous, sagacious hands of General Buller."

"Regarding the future, I will only deprecate some very strange assertions that I see occasionally in the continental press. Only the other day I saw it asserted, not by a chance writer, but by a man who has been a member of a French government, that this war had its origin in the gratification of the lusts of greedy lords, who desired a partition among themselves of the gold and diamonds of the Transvaal. Now, I beg to assure this gentleman, that Her Majesty's Cabinet have not had a farthing from the Transvaal, or from any other gold field. There is the Yukon, about which there is no contest. If there had been any chance of our gaining advantages, these Yukon gold fields should have yielded something, but I appeal to my friend, Lord Hamilton, to know if the Cabinet ever had a farthing from them [laughter]."

"I go further. England, as a whole, would have had no advantage from the possession of gold mines except as her government conferred the blessing of good administration on those engaged in the industry. All industry breeds commerce, and all commerce has produced is to the advantage of England, and all the industries and commerce flourish better under her government than under any other régime in the world. But that is the limit of our interest."

"What we desire is equal rights before all men of all races, and security for our fellow-subjects and our empire. The hour for asking by what means these results can be obtained is not yet come, but these are the objects and the only objects we seek. We do not allow any other consideration to cross our path. I have seen it suggested—and it seems to me a wild suggestion—that the other powers will interfere with the country, and in some form or other dictate to those who are concerned in it as to what its upshot had been. Don't let any man think it is in that fashion the conflict will be concluded. We shall have to carry it through ourselves, and the interference of anybody else will have no effect upon it [cheers]. In the first place, because we would not accept that interference, and in the second place, because no such idea in the mind of any government in the world."

"Within my recollection there have been some five or six wars, involving in their close great territorial modifications, and except in the case of treaties, in none of these wars has a third party ventured to interfere between the combatants. In none of these wars has any nation claimed a right to demand what the issue of the contest or its terms should be. They have not claimed that right, because they cannot. It is not their mission with international law that they should possess it. Therefore such dreams should be set aside."

"Wherever we are victorious we shall consult the vast interests committed to our care. Vast duties lie upon us to perform, and, taking counsel of the uniform traditions of the colonial government, and of the moderation and the equal justice to all races of men which has been our guiding principle to observe, I do not doubt we shall so arrange that the issue of this contest will confer good government upon the area where it rages, and give the security so long needed against the recurrence of any such dangers and the necessity of any future extension of the area of peace and civilization to that portion of the world."

Lord Salisbury resumed his seat amid a two important points.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

LONDON, Nov. 10.—As was anticipated, Lord Salisbury, in his speech at the Lord Mayor's banquet last evening, said practically nothing that would throw light on the ultimate fate of the Boer republic. The speech was of the commenting rather than of the informing order. The important points in his speech which attract universal attention and gratification are his references to the friendship of the United States and Germany, and his plain statement that there will be no European intervention.

The Daily News, dwelling at some length upon Lord Salisbury's reference to the United States, says: "We are told to bow our heads in shame before

As to the best time to prune orange trees no very good answer can be given. Plants with persistent foliage may be budded, pruned or transplanted with more impunity than deciduous trees. Pruning should be done in the dormant period, should be pruned within the period of their greatest dormancy. This occurs when they are throwing up an even, matured, flow of sap to ripen the oranges and generate a new crop, and thus growers may safely withhold the pruning saw till March, April and May. The time of day for pruning should be about the sixth hour, and under ordinary circumstances, for at that age the outer foliage usually begins to burden the inner, causing "drone wood" to accumulate through the in-antion of the inside branches. However strong may be the desire to disprove the blame where it belongs, it is obvious that the Agricultural Commission should have been at the bottom of the olive business in Southern California twelve months ago. NOTES AFIELD.

NOTES TO READER

A correspondence, addressed to this department from La Cañada, asks: "What is the best time to irrigate orange trees to get the best results? The fruit is in the last two years of bearing. Irrigate whenever you can get the water, winter and summer. No special fertilizer given and no insecticide permitted. The foliage is constantly alive and in action, either in the preparation of new wood, or in the maturing of the old wood. The trees are consequently the orange tree needs moisture, warmth and light at all times, and irrigation would be necessary to furnish a constant supply of moisture. Orange-growers fertilize for wood growth at a certain time of the year, and for fruit growth at another time, and with different elements. But that is done to supply lacking ingredients, while the scope of irrigation is merely to keep the soil laboratory at work. So

We have frequently called attention to the fact that the gizzard of a hen has shown how a gizzard of a grain-eating fowl may change to a stomach when flesh and soft substances are substituted for a long time, and vice versa. Hence, in order to have the fowl in the best of health it should be fed on grain and green food, and then fed the right kind of food. In order to get the greatest good from food which is to furnish the lime necessary, it should be fed in such a manner that its soluble parts will be assimilated. Bones are phosphate of lime, and oyster shells are carbonate of lime. Such are insoluble in water, and liable to be passed off, and the very thing which is wanted is lost. SOME GOOD SALES OF PRODUCTIVE COUNTRY PROPERTY.

Walnut Orchards Which Yield a Profit of from Ten to Sixteen Per Cent. on the Purchase Price.

The Vexing Oil-boring Proposition and the Duty of Property Owners in the Premises—Flats for Figueroa Street.

Street Improvements—Assessment Lists. Old Los Angeles—Building Record for October—About Paint.

The local real estate business of the past week has been mainly confined to sales of residence property, some country property and trades. There are several important deals pending which may be closed up at any moment, including one in which $100,000 has been offered for a piece of property.

COUNTRY LAND.
As showing the good demand that prevails for productive country property and the confidence of investors in this class of property, the record of one real estate agent is interesting. This agent, A. R. Fraser, has during the past few months made the following sales of improved real estate in this county:

D. C. Lane sold to W. H. Routzhan twenty-two acres of walnut orchard, eight years old, at Fullerton, for $400 per acre, cash. This purchaser is an old resident who bought the land as an investment.

Mrs. Strothoff sold to C. E. Love, twenty-two acres of nine-year-old walnut orchard at Fullerton. The price paid for this property was also $400 per acre, cash.

The Santa Fe Railroad Company sold to Dr. John Schmitz thirty-five acres of young walnut orchard at Fullerton, for $5000 cash.

This week Robert Northam sold to James Copeland 135 acres at La Mirada, in Orange county, adjoining the celebrated McNally place. Of this land fifty-two acres are in five-year-old walnut orchard, forty acres in alfalfa, and forty acres in oranges. The price paid for this property was $40,000, it involving a trade for the Upham Block on Second street, between Figueroa and Hill, with a frontage of fifty-two and a half feet, and three brick stores, the property, which belonged to Mr. Northam, being valued at $45,000. In connection with these sales, Mr. Fraser draws attention to the fact that there was no incommensurate amount of property paid 15 per cent. net on the purchase price from the last crop, and the others will pay over 10 per cent. It is not surprising to learn that the demand for such property continues active.

FLATS.
Another instance which shows the growing confidence of outsiders in Southern California property is furnished by Wright & Callender, the rental agents of this city, who have just been authorized to erect for William Imus, a cattleman of Hackberry, Ariz., two frame buildings on Figueroa street, just below Seventh, on a lot 150 feet front. The building will contain eight modern flats of five rooms each, and will cost $10,000.

It is not likely that the flat idea will ever become so prevalent here as in crowded cities of the East, because land is here so comparatively cheap, and the mild climate invites to the enjoyment of trees and plants and flowers around a cottage. Yet, as the city grows, there will always be found a number of people without families who prefer the convenience of a compact suite of up-to-date modern apartments to a cottage residence.

THE OIL QUESTION.
The question of whether to bore or not to bore within the proscribed limit around Westlake Park continues to agitate the residents in that locality to whom it is certainly very much of a bore. A recent court decision, in the case of a Chinese laundry in a residence section, where a Los Angeles judge decided in favor of the laundryman, has given the oil men some encouragement. It is, however, difficult to believe that a municipality would restrict right in such cases as these. The decision goes to show that a city may "regulate," but not restrict, in such cases. According to this, it would be an easy thing for a man to buy a lot in the heart of the best residence section of the city where the expense of improvements is small, and then put up a soap factory, or a tannery, or a garbage crematory, and then sit down and wait until the city authorities are about to build fine homes to get outside of the city limits. Property in the suburbs will boom, and the city property inside the city will go down below zero, especially when, to this drawback, is added the worry, annoyance and expense to which the owner of city property is often put by the forcing through of unnecessary and expensive street improvements, which often do not improve, but damage the property against which they are assessed. In short, if the handicap on owners of city property is thus increased, the man who invests in such property will soon be regarded by judicious people in much the same light as the man who deliberately runs up against a poker game in the back room of a cigar store.

The whole question is one of such vast and urgent importance to property-owners in every city of the country that, as The Times has previously said, it seems incredible that there is no definite court decision on record that would settle the question. It may be that Los Angeles is the only city in which the oil wells have been drilled in the heart of a residence section, with valuable improvements, but other municipalities have certainly been created—or attempted to be created—in cities, and there should be some decisions which would throw light on the question. In any case, the property-owners of Los Angeles should combine to bring the question to an issue, and have it settled once for all, if necessary taking it up as far as the Supreme Court of the United States. As The Times has shown, this is a question which concerns property-owners in all parts of the city, and it would be very foolish and short-sighted if those who are not at present affected should hold back and refuse to take an interest. When the homes of citizens on Temple street were being destroyed by the oil wells residents in the Westlake section took little interest in the question. The same is true today of those who live along Figueroa and Adams streets, but they should remember that it may be their turn tomorrow.

Another interesting question in this connection is as to the responsibility of a man who subdivides and places on the market a residence tract, after guaranteeing, verbally and in writing, that there is no oil beneath it, should oil be discovered.

WILSHIRE BOULEVARD TRACT.
In the case of the Wilshire boulevard tract, west of Westlake Park, the title deeds contain a provision against boring for oil. That fine residence street, Wilshire boulevard, is to be extended soon to the city limits, the grading contract having been let. Thus will be carried out the original intention of connecting Westlake and Sunset parks. The Council, at the instance of property-owners in the neighborhood, will probably take steps to prevent the passage of oil wagons over the boulevard, as it is strictly a residence street; besides, there are other thoroughfares open to the oil men on all sides of the boulevard.

BOYLE HEIGHTS.
The coming of railroad competition to Boyle Heights has caused a greatly increased demand for property ever there. An East-Side paper quotes a real-estate agent as saying that, if there were two hundred modern cottages vacant on the heights, they could be rented without any trouble. The Ninth Ward Improvement Association has been doing good work on the other side of the river.

ASSESSMENT LISTS.
The City Assessor has requested the Council to amend the present ordinance regulating the method of listing property assessments. Under the present system, the Assessor is required to keep the assessment rolls with lists of property under proper heads "alphabetically arranged." The Assessor would have the Council cut out the words "alphabetically arranged," and insert a new provision, requiring an index to be made. The index itself would be in alphabetical order, showing the name and residence of every property-owner in the city; his post-office address, and the book and page where his property is listed. As an argument in favor of this change, it is claimed that it would not only diminish the expense of compiling the rolls, but also would save much time and annoyance to the Assessor and his assistants.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.
Of the 550 miles of streets within the limits of the city of Los Angeles, 17.32 miles are paved with asphaltum and macadam; 201.36 miles are graded and gravelled, making a total of about 219 miles of "good streets" in this city. Within the last thirty days about twenty-three blocks of grading and graveling have been completed, and about fifty blocks of such work will be commenced within the next month. On the subject of street improvements, "Cocaine," a local publication devoted to the discussion of good roads, has the following: "Decomposed granite and porphyry paving materials are found in large quantities within a few miles of this city, and with natural gravel scattered throughout the city. There exists no plausible excuse for Los Angeles not having the finest streets of any city in the United States. An organized effort on the part of the city should be made to induce many property-owners to petition for the improvement of the streets in their immediate neighborhood, and thereby greatly increase the mileage of 'good streets' in the fairest city of the land. Too much agitation in this direction is impossible and too much importance cannot be attached to the proper care of the streets when once improved. To obtain such care a sufficient amount of money should be allowed from each year's tax levy to enable the officials in charge of this work to make the necessary repairs promptly, and thereby exemplify the adage, 'a stitch in time saves nine.' This is all very well, so long as the improvements are not pushed through in a section where the value of the property assessed does not warrant the expense, in which case the forcing through of such improvements amounts really to confiscation of property, and, moreover, according to some recent court decisions, is unconstitutional."

OLD LOS ANGELES.
Some interesting facts in regard to the Los Angeles of thirty-three years ago were given by J. M. Guinn before the Pioneers' Society, at its regular meeting this week. Few cities, even in the United States, can show such a remarkable change as has taken place in Los Angeles during that time. Mr. Guinn showed that the business center of Los Angeles thirty-three years ago was Los Angeles street, between Arcadia and Commercial streets. Also was one of the principal streets of the city, and all the travel from the San Gabriel, Los Nietos and Santa Ana valleys entered the city by that thoroughfare. There were no business houses then below Spring and Main, and the aristocratic residence streets were San Pedro and the west side of South Main. In 1863 over 2000 acres of the site of East Los Angeles were sold by the Council at 50 cents an acre, and it was not considered a bargain at that. In 1869 there was but one house, on the range of hills south of Temple and west of Hill street. As to outside places, Los Angeles was the only city in the county, Anaheim and Wilmington the only towns of any commercial importance. Pasadena was then known as the Santa Catalina rancho, and was an indifferent sheep pasture. The site of Santa Ana was devoted to cattle raising. Pomona had no existence. The sites of Los Angeles, Long Beach and Redondo were unpopulated wastes. Galathea was the metropolis of the Los Nietos Valley, a town long since deserted, and its existence almost forgotten.

AINTS IN ARCHITECTURE.
The dry climate of Southern California is hard on woodwork and the question of paint is an important one. On this subject a writer in the Inland Architect says:

"It has been maintained with a great deal of heat that white lead, pure and unadulterated, is the only white pigment fit for use on wood. In the face of this contention, thousands of perhaps hundreds of thousands, of tons of combination whites are sold and used annually in this country. Many of these combinations contain lead, but practically all of them contain zinc white in large proportions. Both the extensive use of white lead and the universal employment of zinc white in such combinations must have a rational explanation."

We know that zinc white is employed because it is permanent in both color and material, its great capacity for carrying linseed oil, its inertness in the presence of chemical compounds, and its resistance to atmospheric action, both chemical and mechanical. Now, as to lead: This pigment carries comparatively little oil, it combines with the oil to form a metallic soap, it is susceptible to the action of sulphuretted hydrogen, to moisture, and to the mechanical action of the atmosphere, and it affects disastrously many of the most beautiful colors. However, its low oil-carrying capacity makes it very opaque, and its soap-forming characteristics makes it very workable under the brush; and these qualities induce most manufacturers to use it in their white base combinations. It is an undecided, and perhaps indecipherable, question whether the loss is not as great as the gain by using it; but it is, nevertheless, certain that when combined with zinc white, either with or without other pigments, its characteristic faults are greatly lessened, and its one characteristic advantage is fully utilized. For while such a combination retains neither its luster nor its color so long as a combination in which zinc is used without lead, still

FLOODS THE STREET.

ZANJA BREAKS.

The Main-street zanja got stopped up in some way last night, and as a result Jefferson street was flooded for some distance. The water began to overflow early in the evening, and several attempts were made to discover the cause. The zanja was evidently clogged near the intersection with the Jefferson-street zanja, but just what the matter was could not be discovered. The police were sent for, and they in turn tried to find the zanjero, but without success.

The water ran for some time, and so rapidly that Jefferson street was two feet under water in some places. The water ran as far west as Grand avenue. This caused great inconvenience to teams and pedestrians.

TOWN FULL OF THIEVES.

GUARD AGAINST THEM.

Owing to the unusually large number of thieves and hobos now in the city, people should not leave their houses alone when it can be avoided, as the sneakthieves are continually prowling around, both day and night, watching for an opportunity to enter. In some cases houses are entered while the occupants are at home, and more than ordinary caution should be exercised against leaving valuables where they are easily accessible to the sneaks. In addition to the many recent thefts from houses, several hold-ups on the streets at night have been reported to the police.

The officers are kept busy watching the new arrivals in the city, and many respectable characters are arrested on suspicion or charges of vagrancy. In this way many of them are kept moving, as they are glad to promise to leave the city if allowed to go. In some instances the officers, by arresting suspicious characters, and that they have men who are wanted for offenses committed. Bowen, the man who was held to answer by Justice Austin on Wednesday on a charge of burglarizing the residence of Mrs. W. Stuart, was arrested in this manner.

William Mason, a one-armed alleged peddler, and Thomas Ridge, were arrested on suspicion last night by Police-man Ziegler, Jim Gallagher, a mulatto, was sent in from River Station by Special Officer Yates of the Southern Pacific Company. When Gallagher arrived at the City Jail it was necessary to send him in to the Receiving Hospital to have a wound on his head dressed. Gallagher told the hospital attendants that he was walking near the railroad depot, when a man slipped up behind him, struck him on the head, with a policeman. Later a man who saw the occurrence called at the Police Station and said that Gallagher received his injuries while attempting to escape arrest on suspicion of having committed a larceny.

C. S. Schieffelin, No. 363 West Ninth street, reported at the Police Station last night that while his family was absent from the house a short time during the evening, the place was entered by thieves, who got in through a side window. The sleeping rooms were completely ransacked, but nothing is missing, so far as known last night, except an alligator pocketbook containing $3 in silver and two papers of money.

H. Burt reported last night that he had been robbed of $20 while in a saloon at the southeast corner of Spring and Fifth streets. A detective accompanied him out to see if they could capture the thief.

Yesterday afternoon a small colored boy, 9 years old, giving the name of Henry Homestead, offered a new Tribune bicycle for sale at the corner of George Mayer, junction of Broadway and Main street. He said his father had sent him out to sell the wheel for $20. Mayer telephoned to Williamson Bros. to inquire about the wheel, and was told that it had been reported stolen. The boy was sent to the Police Station and Officer Phillips ascertained that the wheel was stolen at noon from the Twenty-eighth-street schoolhouse. It belongs to the son of C. S. Hogan, No. 78 East Washington street.

Troops are also on the way to the scene of the trouble. The herder is in the guardhouse at the post.
